Stop-motion Film Challenge

If you love stop-motion animation, you are going to enjoy this opportunity to challenge yourself within this amazing artistic medium whether you are a talented purveyor of the craft, or just starting out.

The key to Commotion2Motion is to make sure that you are challenging yourself. You are capable of far more than you think, so think about this challenge, and what will help launch you out of your comfort zone, and into your growth zone, before you dive in.

Choose one or both challenges:

Option 1. Challenge yourself based upon length, creating a longer video than you've ever made by at least 30 seconds. If that is too easy for you, pick your own audacious target.

Option 2. Challenge yourself based upon quality, using 24 frames per second of your video.

The most important rule of this challenge: have fun! 99.9% of people today won't challenge themselves at all, which means you are doing something special just by showing up!
