

NOVELBER

creative writing challenge

NOVELBER

creative writing challenge

You Belong Here

Since the dawn of time, humans have told stories: stories to teach, stories to preserve learning, and stories to capture the imagination.

Whether you are new to the long and distinguished line of storytellers, or have a room already full of literary creations: Welcome. You belong here.

The Challenge

During the month of November, write and polish a short story that captures the beauty of your imagination, and the characters, world, and story in your heart.

The Rules

We only have two:

- Write every single day, if you can, and keep going, even if you do not like what you are writing; and
- Leave perfection at the door, which is the hardest rule of them all.